Miracle Foundation does not knowingly ask for any personal information from children under the age of 13 without first obtaining the consent of such child’s parent or legal guardian. If we become aware that we have collected personal information from a child under 13 years old in a way that is inconsistent with the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act of the United States, then Miracle Foundation will use commercially reasonable efforts to promptly delete this information.

IV. Information Collected via Technology

- A. Information Collected by our Websites. To make our Websites more useful to you, we automatically track certain information about the visits to our Websites, including your browser type, operating system, Internet Protocol (IP) address, clickstream data, referring and exiting pages, and a date/time stamp for your visit. Miracle Foundation uses cookies, web beacons, log file information, and similar mechanisms for all or any of the following purposes:
 - 1. To store information so that you will not have to re-enter it during your visit or the next time you visit the Websites.

Information collected in this way may be used to develop and manage the online services of Miracle Foundation by, for example, storing information about your preferences so as to enable Miracle Foundation to customize the Websites according to your individual interests.
 - 5. Improving the content of the Websites and conducting various other diagnostics to improve the Websites. Miracle Foundation may, for example, use Cookies to monitor aggregate metrics such as total number of Users and pages viewed.

6. Analyzing and improving Website security.

B. Cookies. Like many online services, we use cookies to collect information. “Cookies” are small pieces of information that a website sends to your computer’s hard drive while you are viewing the website. We may use both session Cookies (which expire once you close your web browser) and persistent Cookies (which stay on your computer until you delete them) to provide you with a more personal and interactive experience on our Websites. This type of information is collected to make the Websites more useful to you and to tailor your experience to meet your special interests.

C. Mobile Services. We may also collect non-personal information from your mobile device if you have downloaded our Apps. This information is generally used to help us deliver the most relevant information to you. Examples of information that may be collected and used include how you use the Apps, and information about the type of device you use. In addition, in the event our Apps crashes on your mobile device, we will receive information about your mobile device model software version and wireless service carrier, which allows us to identify and fix bugs and otherwise improve the performance of our Apps.

D. Third-Party Analytics. We use certain third-party service providers to help analyze how Users use our Websites (“Analytics Companies”). These Analytics Companies use certain technologies, like Cookies, to collect information such as how often Users visit our Websites, what pages they visit, where they go, and what other sites they used prior to coming to our Websites. We use the information we get from Analytics Companies to improve our Websites or to develop new product offerings, as well as improve our business and services to you.

V. Interaction with Third-Party Sites and Services. Certain services or other materials displayed on the Websites may link to or be provided in connection with third-party services and content. You should read the terms of use agreements and privacy policies that apply to such third-party services and content. We are not responsible for the practices of third-party websites or services linked to or from our Websites, including, without limitation, the information or content contained within them. In addition, by using our Websites you agree that we are not responsible and do not have control over any third parties that you authorize to access information you provide to them. If you are using a third-party website or service and you allow them to access your personal information, you do so at your own risk.
